IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Operational policies are essential tools for a wide variety of people involved in the practical aspects of running a repository.

IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Collection policies:

Will the IR focus on a specific discipline, or will it reflect the entire academic output?

What to deposit?

What versions are acceptable?

IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Submission policies:

Who can deposit?

What type of materials can be submitted?

IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Withdrawal policies:

Do we allow items to be withdrawn?

If so, what reasons are acceptable?

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

Embargo policies:

Why some thesis and articles are embargoed?

How some thesis and articles are embargoed?

IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Usage policies:

What can end-users do with repository metadata and content?

How should publisher's restrictions or embargoes be managed?

Is there a take-down policy?

IR@LAU – Operational Policy

Preservation policies:

For how long will the repository aim to preserve deposits?

Where shall we preserve the data?

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

Metadata Input:

Metadata is needed to facilitate discovery of repository content.

What metadata is going to be gathered from the authors?

What are the options for minimizing free text fields?

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

Permissions/Copyright and license handling :

Who is responsible for checking the copyright of each submission?

When will the depositor sign a deposit agreement or license?

IR@LAU – Defining Procedures

File Management :

How will different versions of deposits be managed?

What formats will be requested?

Permission for depositing your work in LAUR

By depositing your work, and any future work you might submit, you agree to be bound by the terms of this Deposit Agreement.

Deposit
License:

1. I give LAUR the right to store my research publications and make them permanently available online to the public for free.
2. I understand that there is no transfer of copyright ownership when a deposit is made to the Repository.
3. I understand that publisher agreements may include provisions assigning my copyright to the publisher which could restrict making the work publically available in the repository. I understand that Repository staff will ascertain and abide by current publisher policies regarding institutional repositories prior to making the full-text of such material publicly accessible.
4. I warrant that all third party copyright material has been clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of my works and any necessary copyright clearance to use the material has been obtained.
5. If a work is based upon material that has been sponsored or supported by an agency or organization other than LAU University, then I represent that I have fulfilled any obligations required by such contract or agreement.
6. I warrant that the content of my works are not defamatory and do not contain personal information about another person.
7. I understand that LAUR reserves the right to remove content from the Repository at any time for any reason.
